

AGILITY SEMINARS WITH KRISTY NETZER

Jan 26 –27, 2019

New dates

Saturday Morning 9:00 am – 12:30 pm

Skills & Drills for the Masters and Premier Level:

We will work on handling skills that are becoming necessary for running Masters and Premier level courses. We will practice and refine back side of jumps, “ass pass” as well as new ways of cuing tight turns.

Saturday Afternoon 1:30 pm— 5:00 pm

Skills & Drills for the Novice and Open Level:

We will be evaluating and running Novice and Open courses. Dogs will be using 6 or 12 weave poles.

Sunday Morning 9:00 am—12:30 pm

Obstacle Commitment:

All Levels:

This is a common word that isn’t often explained. To put it in a nutshell, you want your dog to commit to an obstacle so you can leave before your dog actually take the obstacle. In other words, you show your dog a jump, and then you leave. As you leave, your dog continues his path and takes the jump. This is a fantastic skill that will allow you to get further forward on the course. A huge advantage for the speed challenged handler!

Sunday Afternoon 1:30 pm—5:00 pm

Course Analysis 1:

In this seminar, we will run courses and then discuss various skills needed to run them efficiently. We will break down difficult areas and explore different handling options. We will discuss front cross line theory and proper rear cross cues. You will learn a process to evaluate courses and decide what path you want your dog to take, how to handle your dog to make it happen, and to have the best course times possible. Dogs need to be training at the Open to Masters level to participate.

Kristy Netzer Bio: Kristy attended the first ever dog agility seminar in Southern California in 1989. The teamwork, competition, and fun attracted her to this wonderful new sport. With encouragement from her fellow competitors, she started teaching agility in 1995. She has since taught hundreds of students and shown them how to incorporate extraordinary distance skills into their handling systems. In 2010, Kristy produced a video, “Dial Up The Distance” for Clean Run and she writes monthly articles for the magazine.

Kristy’s students range from highly athletic handlers who compete on the world team, to physically challenged handlers. She has helped more than 75 handlers earn their Championship titles. Kristy has earned agility championships with 4 of her own dogs. She is currently running a 3 year old Border Collie named Diggity and has
